

The Oxford County Citizen

VOLUME XVI.—NUMBER 24.

BETHEL, ME.—RUMFORD, ME., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1910.

$1.50 IN ADVANCE.

THE FIRST POSTAL BANK

In Maine will be established at Rumford.

One of the first 48 to be opened the country.

Rumford will have the first postal bank to be established in Maine and one of the first 48 to be opened in the country in accord with the law passed at the last session of congress. The plan of the post office department is in inaugurating the system to establish one bank in each State. In this manner the widest possible range of list can be made. The amount appropriated for the first year of the system was only $100,000, and from this sum must come all the expense of equipment, including the engraving and printing of forms, certificates, bonds, etc., as well as the cost of clerical assistance. Owing to the smallness of this appropriation it has been impossible to establish postal savings banks in the first year in the large cities. The offices designated are all of the second class. In their selection it has been the purpose to choose communities in which conditions were exceptionally favorable for the development of a postal savings business. Most of the places on the list are industrial centres, where wage earners will be especially benefited by the kind of banking facilities afforded.

A large patronage of the service is expected from foreign born Americans in these cities, who are now remitting considerable large sums to their native countries, usually in the form of money orders. Many of the places selected, particularly those in the West, are not adequately provided with other savings institutions. The work of furnishing the necessary equipment to the post offices selected and having the postmasters and their assistants thoroughly instructed in the operation of the system will probably consume several weeks, but every effort will be made to have the designated offices ready to receive deposits at the earliest feasible date. It is possible that the plans devised for the postal savings system will receive at least a month's trial in the original forty-eight offices before others are added to the list, although it is expected that the number will be largely increased before the end of the current fiscal year.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS IN THE Y. P. C. U., RUMFORD.

The annual election of officers in the Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist Church took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Barber on Franklin St., on Monday night, an attendance of about twenty was present. The meeting was called to order by the president, Chas. Brown and the secretary's report was read and also reports from the treasurer and the chairman of each committee. Then the election of officers took place, the following officers were elected:

President, Chas. Brown; Vice President, Louis Kilder; Sec. Norma Gates; Treas. Mrs. Chas. Brown; Chairman of Lookout Committee Marguerite McKenzie; Chairman of Flower Committee, Mrs. L. W. Blanchard; Chairman of Social Committee, Miss Louise Kilder; Sec. of Post Office Mission, Miss Louise Nesbit. It was voted by the Union that the home mission plan be adopted and that any and all members that wished should contribute two cents a week toward the help of this work. Miss Louise Martin and Miss Sue Virginia were elected as collectors of this movement. It was also voted to join the State Union as soon as steps could be taken in that line.

Following this was a social time enjoyed by all and participated in with a good deal of real heart especially the athletic drawing by each person present of an animal, designated by Mr. Barber, upon a chart which hung on one side of the room. The animal drawn was supposed to be very like like and the others members were to guess what it was and write the name on a slip of paper given them for that purpose. It had never been fully realized by any of the members how many real artists were present, so life like was an animal drawn by one of the members that it was taken for a rat and a lamb drawn by another could almost be heard to say, "Not that." A great deal of sport was had over these drawings and after the game was completed several others were indicated to be with equal fun.

LOCAL HISTORY.

Court Houses and Places of Records.

Incidental Memorandum—By Leonard B. Chapman. Number 79.

IN SEVERAL PARTS—PART NINE.

In the year of 1773 the prospective expense of four hundred pounds for a Cumberland county court house voted the preceding year was sealed down to two hundred and a committee chosen "to look for a lot and make a verbal report."

Then two hundred pounds was voted to pay Capt. Pearson Jones forty-five pounds for a lot that adjoining (Rev.) Mr. Wiswell's lot "whereon he now resides" which is today the site of the First National Bank building of Portland, corner of Middle and Exchange streets, or the Willis history of the city Places Wiswell there in a two story red colored house—he a renegade Episcopalian from a Congregational church of the town, the lot selected for the proposed court house being next to it, but no attempt was made to build thereon, and the forty-five pounds paid was refunded.

That year which was 1773, the town came to the front in its corporate capacity, and May 11th, a special town meeting was called with regard to building a new court house or providing a place for the same "when it was—"

"Voted the town will give the land where the town house now stands, with the town house thereon standing and the sum of thirty pounds to the county provided the county will build and keep in repair a two story court house at, or as near the same place where the house now stands, and suffer the town of Falmouth to do its public business therein, and appropriate the lower story thereof to the use of the town and county."

Then another special town meeting was called for Aug. 30, 1773, in the call for which it was declared that the previous meeting was "sudden and illegally warned," but it did not produce fruit.

The size of the house agreed upon by the Court of Sessions was 34x50 feet with 28 foot posts, hip roof and belfry. Jos. Jeremiah Powell—a man of much respectability who died at North Falmouth, Sept. 18, 1781 and Esch Freeman, Esq. Portland and Hon. Richard King of Scarborough, father to William, the first governor of Maine, who was then a resident of Bath, were chosen a committee "to purchase timber, boards, shingles and clapboards."

At the March meeting of the court of 1774 a record was made as follows: "The court house to be built where the old house stands and with land adjoining to be given by the town of Falmouth. The deed to be returned of the forty-five pound lot. The town to have the use of the cellar forever for the digging and stowing. Stephen Longfellow to build the house and a good store be provided. The lower story to be 12 foot post; the upper 16 feet in the clear."

July meeting 1774. "Ordered that three hundred fifty pounds be raised towards building the new court house erected, and the license money in the hands of the clerk of courts be used to purchase glass for the windows."

"Ordered that some clear boards belonging to the county be appropriated for dial plates for the court house, and the plates be fixed on said house and painted and gilded."

Interpreted, the court house then built had a belfry and the dial boards ordered "painted and gilded" were preparatory to the installing of a town clock.

Delicate refreshments were served by Mrs. Barber at "punch, fancy crackers, pretzels, marshmallows and wafled peanuts. A most delightful evening was spent by all.

Miss Susan Martin of Hebron was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Martin, over Sunday.

Miss Lucie Noyes returned to Boston, Monday to resume her studies at the College of Physicians and Surgeons. Miss Ella Burditt returned to her residence in Boston, after spending a fortnight with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Burditt.

FOOT BRIDGE WILL BE REPAIRED

$2500 Raised at Rumford's Special Town Meeting.

At a special town meeting held at the Wigwam at Rumford, Saturday morning at ten o'clock, rather a small number of voters were present. For moderator Matthew McCarthy was chosen. It was voted to rescind such part of the articles passed at a recent special meeting in regard to the foot bridge, as referred to the demolishing or removal of the footbridge. It was further voted to repair the present footbridge so that every part of the bridge and its approaches shall be safe and substantial. Two thousand five hundred dollars was voted for this purpose the money to be raised by loan. It was also voted to have these repairs made under the supervision of a competent person, and the selection of this person will be left in the hands of the selectmen.

All other articles in the warrant for this special meeting referring to the building of a new steel foot bridge, raising money and employing an engineer to erect the same, were passed over and the meeting adjourned.

BASE BALL.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—The baseball championship of the world belongs to the Philadelphia club of the American league. They clinched the big pennant, today, seven runs to two for the Chicago Nationals, and there was none in the big overflow crowd to say that they had not won it fairly and squarely. Five games were played and the eastern youngsters took four of them by outbattling, outfielding and outmanning the veteran Chicago Cubs. They "got the jump" at the start and although Chicago halted their progress with a defeat yesterday, it really didn't change the situation a bit. The Philadelphia were due. They won two American league banners in 1902, but there was no world's series that year. Five years ago the New York Nationals were too strong for them. So in this year of grace it was not in the cards that they should be denied.

Receipts of Series. While the series was not the most profitable ever played the players' share of the money amounts to $70,071. Of this amount 60 per cent, or $42,433 goes to the winners and $28,038 to the losers. As there are 23 players on each team eligible to participate each of the Philadelphia is entitled in round numbers to $2043, and each Chicagoan to $1375.

The players shared in today's receipts by courtesy of the management of the two clubs, who conceded that if today's receipts should be larger than those of any previous day the smallest receipts should be considered as accruing to the fifth game, and Sunday's receipts should be accredited to the fourth contest, the last in which the players had a financial share.

The total receipts for the series were $173,950. The two clubs get $33,753 each, while $17,244 goes to the national commission. The total paid attendance was 123,319.

Philadelphia on Top. According to the general verdict the newly won prestige of the Philadelphia and their wealth, entitles them to top places in athletic blue books and for the same reason with others added, it is said that McKeen Castle Mack is a good workaday appellation and it is likely in the headlines as manager of the greatest ball team on earth, he should be addressed as Mr. Cornelius McKeen Castle Mack, with never a syllable altered. When this was put in Mr. McKeen Castle Mack, however, he blushed and said it didn't matter what the manager of a team like his was called.

"They're a grand bunch of boys," he said, beaming on his men, "and I'm proud of them. They never quit. In the first four games we used only 10 men, which speaks well for the way the boys work together and not said today did I make any changes."

Merton Lord has been spending his vacation with his parents in Lovell. When Paul has been taking his place at the pumping station.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Cowan spent a part of the week in Portland. Mrs. Cowan returned by the way of New York and is making a visit with her mother, Mrs. H. P. Bowdoin.

HEART THRILLING GEMS.

Boyhood Visions.
Printed in the Boston Transcript,
July '99.

Her face is sweet and her brow is fair,
The golden light in her sunny hair;
Soft are her fingers with rosy tips,
Lullabies flow from her loving lips.

Again I sleep in my trundle-bed,
The stars peep in on my daxon head:
My playmate purrs in a monotone
And pillows her head beside my own.

While the mother tucks me in.
Once more I sleep 'neath the rustic roof,
Where rafters and shingle make warp
and woof;

Over my head sings the dancing rain,
Splashing away at the window pane—
A loving step on the creaking floor—
A loving hand on my brow once more.

Charming away from my school-boy brain
Its fancied burden of grief and pain,
As mother tucks me in.

Homeward again from a far-away shore
Visiting boyhood's haunts once more,
Bearing the scars of manhood's strife,
Worn with fighting the battle of life.

Sleeping again in my boyhood's bed,
Soothed by the patter of rain overhead,
The twittering swallows in chimney wide
And lullaby songs of eventide.

Once more the step on the creaking floor
And mother comes as in days of yore—
The trembling hands and the bending form
Telling the story of life's rough storm.

Sweet are the words from the feeble lips,
As loving fingers with trembling tips
Smooth with care every crease and fold
Of my trundle-bed, as in days of old.

As mother tucks me in.
Last night as I slept in a foreign land
I felt the touch of my mother's hand
On my wrinkled brow and locks of grey, (Charming each sorrow and grief away;

Smoothing the folds of my lonely bed,
Smoothing the pillow beneath my head
And boyhood's dreaming came back once more
At touch of the hand from silent shore.

Was it a dream? I little know
How angel messengers come and go,
But feel the comforting joy they bring
And hear the rustle of angel wing
As mother tucks me in.

— AN ENGLISH PASTORAL
By A. J. Munby.
I sat with Doris the shepherd maiden,
Her crook was laden with wreathed flowers,
And shadows stealing for hours and hours.

And she my Doris whose lap encloses
Wild summer roses of fairest perfume
The while I wooed her, kept hushed and harkened
Till shades had darkened from gloom to gloom.

She touched my shoulder with fearful finger,
She said, "We linger; we must not stay;
My flock's in danger, my sheep will wander.
Behold them yonder, how far they stray."

I answered bold, "Nay, let me hear you,
And still be near you, and still adore,
No wolf nor stranger will touch one yearling,
Ah! stay my darling one moment
more."

She whispered sighing, "There will I sorrow
Beyond to-morrow, if I lose to-day:
My flock unguarded, my flock unwatched,
I shall be scolded and sent away."

Said I, replying, "If they do miss you,
They ought to kiss you when you get home,
And well rewarded by friend and neighbor
Should be the labor from which you come."

"They might remember," she answered mockly,
"That lambs are weakly and sheep
are wild,
But if they love me, it's none so terrible—
I am a servant and not a child."

There each hot ember glowed within me,
And love did win me to swift reply:
"Ah! do not prove me, and soon shall I

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Black Duck, Minn.—"About a year ago I wrote you that I was sick and could not do any of my housework. My sickness was called Retroflexion. When I would sit down I felt as if I could not get up. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and did just as you told me and now I am perfectly cured, and have a big baby boy."

Mrs. ANNA ANDERSON, Box 19, Black
Duck, Minn.

Consider This Advice.
No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
It cures female ill, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as the joy you give to a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

bind you,
Nor fray or find you until I die."

She blushed and started, and stood awaiting,
As if debating, in dreams divine;
But I did brave them—I told her plainly,
She doubted vainly, she must be mine.

So we twin-hearted, from all the valley,
Did rouse and rally her nibbling ewes
And homeward drive them, we two together,
Through blooming heather and gleaming dews.

This simple duty such grace did lend her,
My Doris tender, my Doris true;
That I, her lover, did ever bless her
And often press her to take her due.

And now in duty she fills my dwelling
With love exulting and undetected,
And love both guard her, both first and ferrent,
No more a servant nor yet a child.

ROOSEVELT ON THE TARIFF.

Ex-President Roosevelt gave the Republican Tariff doctrine in his
St. Louis speech as follows:
"Now, my friends, one of the questions about which there has been much discussion the past year or so is the Tariff, and it seems to me that, from our Republican standpoint, the issue is much clearer than some people would have us believe. I cheerfully admit that there was a time when, if our approach had acted with reasonable wisdom they might have caused no complaints; but they proved worthy of the trust that we have had in them, and they did not act with reasonable wisdom; they let the opportunity go by,
and now I think matters have cleared so that we can state our position in a way that will satisfy not only the support of all the members of our own party, but to the support of all independent and progressive citizens.

"The Republican party is united on the doctrine of tariff reform. In its national platform two years ago, that the Tariff shall be such as substantially to equalize the cost of production here and abroad. As the cost of production is labor cost, this means really that the duties should be great enough to continue to give our labor the same that higher standard of living which is the greatest distinction the American wage worker from the wage worker of other and less fortunate countries. Now not only is this the doctrine of the Republican party, but I believe it is the doctrine of the overwhelming majority of the American people. If our opponents do not believe that I most earnestly hope they will make the fight squarely on that issue."

HELPFUL WORDS

From a Bethel Citizen.

In your back bone and pitfall
There is also especially after exertion
Is there a weakness in the kidney region?

These symptoms indicate weak kidneys:

There is danger in delay.

Weak kidneys fast get weaker.

Give your trouble prompt attention.

Don't let your kidneys get weak.

They strengthen the kidneys.

Read these helpful hints.

H. H. Heath, R. R. 1, Bethel, Me., says: "I am only too glad to recommend Heath's Kidney Pills. In my case, backache and weakness were common. I often became dizzy and noticed that the kidney secretions were very unusual. During the night the kidney secretions were too frequent to passage and caused me great anxiety and discomfort. I was told to try Heath's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply from W. H. Bennett's Drug Store.
The first few doses helped me and in a short while I was entirely cured. I give Heath's Kidney Pills the credit for this great change."

Rheumatism

Is a Constitutional Disease.

It manifests itself in local aches and pains, swollen joints and with muscles—but it cannot be cured by local applications.

It requires constitutional treatment, and the best is a course of the great blood purifier and tonic medicine which corrects the acid condition of the blood and builds up the system.

THINK IT OVER

Would the ablest business men in the country have a bank account if there was no advantage or convenience in it? Would they have been able to reach their present commanding position if they had spent half their time worrying about the safety of the money they had made?

THE RUMFORD NATIONAL BANK

invites you to open an account as they did. The same advantages they found in so doing will accrue to you if you accept the invitation.

The Altogether Club was most delightfully entertained by Miss Margaret Leighton on Monday night at her room on Crescent Ave. The work of the club consists of sewing for the Ladies Aid Society until after their own which occurs sometime before Christmas and then the young ladies begin to sew on articles for their own Easter sale. One member of the club reads who the others sew. A great deal is accomplished and a lot of good things had in this club.

Deputy Sheriff Elliot took eight of the prisoners sentenced at South Paris Friday, to the Thompson State Prison, on Saturday. He was accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Bartlett of Rockham. Quite a crowd gathered at Lewiston to see "Duke Powers" or Larry and O'Connell. These two men are connected with the gang that accomplished the Liberty Day swindle at Lewiston two years ago. Two white officers boarded off train at Auburn so as to assist Elliot and Bartlett in Lewiston while transferring the prisoners from the Grand Trunk Station to the Maine Central. The prisoners and officers were crowded into two carriages and it was well that the crowded ones were shackled otherwise it would have been hard on account of the closeness of the crowd to have kept them together. The prisoners included Giuseppe Pietrantonio, Carmelo Pura, James O'Connell, James Lery, Will Merrill, T. Green, Chas. West and Harry Epitachian.

The members of the Scottish Clan, "Clan Chisholm" gave a very entertaining Halloween Party on Monday night. The meeting was held in due form at first and then the men of the clan invited the ladies upstairs to the dance hall where the orchestra consisting of Wells and Mauritz were already playing a march. In the center of the hall was a large dish filled with mashed potato in which was a doll, a piece of money, a thimble and ring. As each person passed around the dish they were supposed to take a helping of the potato in a spoon and there was all kinds of fun in seeing who got the deciding articles; Mr. Dan McIntire got the thimble, Mr. David Moore got the money, Mr. Geo. Chas. the doll and Miss Jessie Mardock the ring. After this fun had been participated in the couples formed on for the grand march, Mr. and Mrs. David Moore leading, and the rest of the clan falling in behind. An order of dances was then begun with a good deal of enthusiasm, many old Scottish dances being among the order among which were the Highland Schottische and Rory O'Moore. Later a musical program was indulged in, Mr. David Moore singing "The Mermaid" which is a favorite one with him and with the members of the clan also Miss Nettie Hansen sang a selection. A supper was served consisting of cake, coffee, scones, fruit and nuts. The party broke up about midnight after having spent a most jolly time.

Peruna the Remedy.

Dr. J. W. FULLER, Scientific Optician, 206 North Main St., Los Angeles, Cal., writes:

"I was troubled with catarrh of the head for many years. It affected my sense of smell, hearing and sight."

"I spent lots of money with doctors and the use of local applications to relieve me, but to no purpose until my attention was called to the wonderful effects of Peruna."

"I must say that I met with most surprising and satisfactory results. Peruna took hold of the complaint and drove it entirely out of my system."

"Although well along toward the allotted span of man's life, I am as pleased as a child over the results, and feel like a young man again."

A GOOD POSITION

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 5-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Position pay begins from $10 to $20 per month, with good chance for advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates its official institutes in America, under supervision of R. R. and Wireless Officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., or Philadelphia, Pa. 9-22-30a.
